Find out what you need to know to provide for your kids long after you are gone. Don't risk your kids being left with a stranger. Instead, create a plan to ensure your kids are taken care of while also leaving a legacy for them.

Sarah Madison Arriola will get you started in the right direction and point out some of the pitfalls and false starts that can keep you from preparing for a secure future. Sarah will be going through the 6 most common estate plans used by families and discussing how each plan works. She is a counseling-oriented attorney who believes all families should be served and that every case matters.
